

SCLI NEWS

The week at school

Last week we welcomed back Ayaka Ando a graduate from 2014 and yesterday it was our pleasure to catch up with Sayaka Okubo who graduated in the same year. Both of these women have finished university and will soon start new jobs; Ayaka as an English teacher at a junior high school and Sayaka for a commercial real estate company where she hopes she can be part of their international projects.

This week all classes are preparing for final exams which start this Friday. I have noticed a few more absences than usual and we can expect stress levels to rise as we approach the end of the week. Your support and patience during exams is appreciated.

Today we are stressing our expectations of continued good behavior and adhering to the school rules even though students only have a short time before they go home. I therefore ask all host families not to let any rule breaking or unacceptable behavior slide at this time. Please don't hesitate to call us if you have any concerns.

Enjoy the rest of your week,

Lisa

For students

Duty girls

Whose turn is it for kitchen duty from tomorrow?

Broadcasting students: please check the board for dates you are recording.

Boxes to Japan using JSP

If you would like boxes, you will now need to contact JSP yourself. The information is on the notice board.

Illness

From now on it is not necessary to contact your teacher if you are going to be absent from school. Instead, please call school and leave a message on the answer phone. Make sure you include your name and the reason you will be absent.

Absences during exams

If you are not able to attend school on an exam day, please remember you will need a doctor's certificate.

Speaking examination timetable

The timetable is now on the wall of your classroom. Please choose a suitable time and take a photo of this information. You will need your scrapbook for the speaking exam.

Friday afternoon jogging

Well done to the two (!) students who went running last Friday. Darryl is also planning to go for a run in Hagley Park this Friday after school. If you would like to join him, meet on the veranda at 3.30pm in your running gear.

Initiative Certificates

If you attended a group where there were no other SCLI students, please write your name, the group you joined, when you joined and how long you were a member on the paper on the notice board. The last day to add your information to the list is this Friday.

Behaviour

Although you only have a few short weeks left in NZ, all school rules still apply and there will be the same consequences if you break these rules. It is also still necessary to be able to stay in touch with school and your host family.

Mobile phones

Please make sure your kiwi phone is topped up and charged. If you have changed your mobile number, it is your responsibility to let school know your new number. It is extremely important we are able to contact you.

Garage sale items

As mentioned last week, feel free to bring in any items you would like to sell. Please store them neatly in bags in your classroom.
